The following document is a course outline/syllabus that aligns the FoolProof Financial Literacy modules that include pre and posttest and objective test in each module aligned to the proposed Next Generation Sunshine State standards for social studies financial literacy strand.

This document aligns the FoolProof curriculum with the standards/objectives in standard order. You can use the FoolProof modules in any order.

Teachers should review all lessons and information on www.FoolProofFlorida.com or www.FoolProofTeacher.com before the beginning of the semester. There are many ways to use FoolProof in your classroom, decide what strategy fits your class.

The design of this curriculum outline is for a twenty-week class that meets every day for forty-five to fifty minutes. It can be easily altered for a sixty-minute class and/or a semester or full year block. Teachers can make the appropriate time adjustment. The outline will only use the FoolProof modules, there are eighteen total modules. There are additional activities and essays available on the FoolProof Florida or FoolProof Teacher. They are easy to incorporate into your curriculum. We have also included an outline to use FoolProof once a week. It is called "FoolProof Friday." It has been very popular in our FoolProof schools that have individual computer or lab shortages or do not want to do all the financial literacy curriculum at one time.

Please feel free to contact us with any suggestions, creative ways you use FoolProof or just to discuss financial literacy. Thanks for using FoolProof in your classrooms.

Can't follow that schedule/outline here is another way to implement FoolProof into your Economics curriculum:

"FoolProof Friday"

- FoolProof once a week every Friday (or any other day you choose)
- Great way to schedule your class in a computer lab to use FoolProof
- Very popular way teachers use FoolProof as a reward for their class
- Meets your curriculum requirements for financial literacy
- Can't finish all the modules in the time frame? Assign the unfinished modules as HW and test your students all at one time in your scheduled class day for FoolProof
- Standards and Objectives are listed with the FoolProof inclusive curriculum/outline
- Classes are designed to be 45-50 minutes long, please adjust if you are using block scheduling times
